

Tuesday, March 13, 2007 - Substitute /Mrs. Aber absent

-Open your journal and date the page:

Use 5 color words in today's entry (i.e. red, blue, green , etc.). You can work the colors into your story or narrative or poem however you wish. Underline the 5 named colors in the entry.

-Use dictionaries to continue working on individual root word pages. Two English words and their definitions for each root on your page. The word in English should have an explainable connection to the meaning of the Greek or Latin root word.

-SSR - Library Journal # 13, due next Tuesday, March 20

-In classroom set of Elements of Literature, pp. 510 -511, read the connection between myth and history

-Then, on pp. 512 - 515, read the story of "Paris and Helen" that includes the stories of the Golden Apple, and Face that Launched a Thousand Ships.

Name _____ Class Period _____ Date _____
Library Journal #13 - Due March 20

M.L.A. Citation for your book

Write a brief summary of your SSR book, including the setting, characters, plot and conflict.

We are reading and studying Greek and Roman mythology right now. Make a connection to a character or story in mythology from your book. Is there a god or goddess from mythology who has a personality or characteristics similar to someone in your book? Is the plot line similar to something we've read about in a myth? Make the connection clear to me by comparing someone or something in your book..
